

Items to Clarify Before Signing

Work through this in the meeting — check each box as it's settled and jot the answer on the line.

LEGAL / WHO'S SIGNING

- ☐ Exact legal name for the contract — signing personally, or as an LLC/corp?
- ☐ Any other owner or partner who needs to sign off?

WHAT REPLACES WHAT

- ☐ Does the new site fully replace ducksburgerbar.com, or does ordering stay on the old link?
- ☐ Confirm the real, final online-ordering URL (placeholder currently in the code)
- ☐ Who holds the domain registration, and who pays renewal going forward?

ACCURACY SIGN-OFF (his confirmation, not your guess)

- ☐ Menu items and prices still correct?
- ☐ "Unlimited" tiers, pricing, and rules (Gold/Diamond, day limits, waste fee, kids' price) still accurate?
- ☐ Hours, phone, email, address all current?
- ☐ Instagram handle and Google/UberEats review scores okay to display as-is?

RIGHTS & ASSETS

- ☐ Confirm he has rights to every photo/video used on the site
- ☐ Okay for you to use this site in your own portfolio/case studies?

ONGOING SCOPE

- ☐ Who edits the menu going forward — him, you on request, or a self-service editor (paid add-on)?
- ☐ How many revision rounds before final sign-off, and what counts as new scope?
- ☐ Who's responsible for support after handoff (outages, broken images, expired domain)?

MONEY

- ☐ Which pricing option: flat buyout / buyout + retainer / tiered?
- ☐ Deposit amount and payment method — decide now, not "later"
- ☐ Any hard deadline to go live (promotion, season, event)?

Raise this one first: who edits the menu going forward. It's hardcoded in the site, not a CMS — the most common source of "wait, I thought that was included" disputes after handoff.
